RUNS AWAY FROM ARASEE IN THE REMSEN HANDICAP.

Muddy Track at Jamaica Causes Small Fields

—Handzarra Wins One at Last—

Long Shots in Front.

New York, October 28.—Torrential rains for the preceding twelve hours converted the track at Jamaica into a muddy and canal-like oval today. The footing, however, was firm underneath and comparatively fast time was possible. The untoward weather conditions affected the attendance seriously. Extreme difficulty attended the task of obtaining the various positions of the horses' running on account of the fogs which came up and obstructed the view at intervals during the afternoon. Excepting the first and last races, which were for moderate class two-year-olds, the card was seriously depleted by scratches. The running of the stake fixture, the Remsen Handicap, resulted in a ridiculously easy victory for the Censario colt, King Cobalt, which was the best served of the six starters by the sloppy going. The winner was backed into hot favoritism on the strength of his well known prowess in the mud, notwithstanding such formidable opposition as Arsee, last Saturday's stake victor over the best of his age in present training.

The tabular history of the Remsen Handicap is as follows: Winner, Wt. Jockey, Val. Time.

1904 Dandelion 106 W. Davis $1,555 1:06 1/2

1905 Jacobite 126 J. Jones 1,810 1:07 1/2

1906 Frank Gill 107 Notter 1,635 1:08

1907 King Cobalt 99 E. Dugan 1,525 1:07 1/2

The real and sensational feature of the afternoon's racing was reserved for the close, in which Infanta, a Keene cast-off, recently purchased at auction for the paltry sum of $700, made her debut on the turf by defeating a big band of maidens at odds of 30 to 1. Only a select few benefited by the beautiful Discus filly's win and there was general mourning after the race on account of the big losses in wagers incurred by the public on Infanta, Lady Corinne and Lotus Brandt, the first, second and third choices in the last race respectively. Infanta was a very promising yearling and early in her two-year-old form was accounted the best of the juvenile filly division of the Keene stable, but last summer's epidemic of coughing affected Infanta more seriously than it did the others in the stable and to such an extent was her usefulness impaired in the opinion of trainer James Rowe, that she was allowed to be put up at auction and sold for only a fraction of her value, even as a broodmare.

D'Arkle, the extreme but well-backed outsider of the trio of starters, that trainer James Fitzsimmons saddled, was the only one that made a decent showing. He finished a good second, the other two, Frank Lubbock, equal favorite with the winner, and Workman, the fourth choice, finished last and next to the last respectively.

Frederick Johnson, who has been seriously ill for several days, was not at Jamaica Saturday to see his filly, Lady Winifred, run in the Lynbrook Handicap, having suffered a relapse. Mr. Johnson's recently named yearling fillies, Hammerless and Merry Widow, made the fastest trials yet shown at Belmont Park when the pair were sent a quarter Saturday in 23 1/2 seconds against the wind and each having 122 pounds up.

While Fred Burlew expects to race the big stable of Burlew & O'Neill at New Orleans this winter, he has made nominations to stakes to be run at both of the California tracks. Some of the horses in the stable are for sale and eligibility to race on the coast might help make a sale. Notwithstanding this view, Mr. Burlew says he might send a small string to California to race this winter.

H. T. Griffin left for Oakland with two carloads of race horses yesterday.

John Rowe will race his recent purchase and destined jumper, Judith McBride, at Los Angeles this winter.

Master Robert, the crack two-year-old, will not race at Oakland after all, but will be wintered in the east.

NEW ORLEANS BETTING PLANS.

Canadian Way of Operating Ring May Rule

—Latonia Gossip.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—The eastern style of betting will not be tried out here. Messrs. Applegate and Winn were anxious to test the system for a couple of days, but the bookmakers balked. It looks very much at present as if big slates and betting booths will not be used in New Orleans this winter. The bookmakers will sit on high stools and tickets will be given to each bettor. The system will be similar to that used in Canada.

St. Valma, the charge of Roy Cassidy, got in from New York Friday. The horse has seemingly recovered from the injury he sustained at Saratoga, and will more than likely be the best jumper in New Orleans. Ferriss could have got a big price for the horse. Messrs. Colt and Widener being anxious to add him to their strings, but the injury he sustained to his foot by running with a wrenched plate caused negotiations to be broken off. There will be several departures this week for California of horsemen who will begin the season at Oakland. It is not thought possible that the Los Angeles track will be finished before December 1. Many stables will after this meeting be shipped to Churchill Downs and wintered there. T. P. Hayes is among the number who will go to Louisville. J. C. Milam will send all his horses to Lexington and keep them there until Hot Springs opens. He is trying to win three purses this week, which will give him sixty races for the season. His horses have been in the money over 150 times during the year. The New Orleans contingent will take matters easy for a couple of days after the close here, and there will probably be two special trains to convey the stock south. Pat Dunne will probably be the last one to leave here. Boserrian was badly hurt when he was cut down, and it will be a long time before he goes to the post again. Lens pulled up limping badly after yesterday's race.

TODDLES DIES AT NEW ORLEANS.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—Mose Goldblatt was a visitor at Latonia today, having arrived from New York, where he recently bought the good filly Keep Moving. He received a message during the afternoon from New Orleans, where his horses are at present, announcing the death of Toddles.

NATHANSON GOES TO 'FRISCO.

Martin Nathanson left Chicago last night over the North-Western for Oakland and immediately upon his arrival there will plunge into the mass of work awaiting him. His official duties after the meeting opens will be those of steward and associate judge.

NUMEROUS SCRATCHES AT LATONIA.

Large Fields Reduced on Account of Heavy Track—Melzar Disappoints Backers.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—For the first time since the continuation of the Latonia meeting the track was in a state that required horses built on sturdy lines to negotiate the going successfully. Originally a card possessing many horses in the different races was scheduled, but, because of the sticky going, twenty-three withdrawals were posted. Form calculations were upset, and the talent fared well to have two of their choices reward confidence. The winning pair were Dainty Belle and Granada. The steeplechase as a spectacle provided good sport, but from a betting point of view much fault was found with McClure's handling of Class Leader, the favorite. The rider allowed him to trail his opponents far out of it, and in the stretch run he took him a zigzag course which cost him second place. W. K. Shade winning from Blacklock, with Sam Hoffheimer in third place a head in advance of the favorite. Pete Vinegar unseated his rider at the first obstacle, ran with his field until the water jump, then belted and fell while trying to negotiate the main track rail.

Colonel Bob's defeat by Pinkola was unexpected, and resulted in considerable profit to W. H. Fier and his connections, who backed the Pink Coat youngster heavily.

Merrick enabled J. C. Milam to secure another purse when he beat out Robert, a Milam cast-off, in the sixth. Merrick's victory, however, was mainly due to the good handling of C. Koerner. Ethel Carr furnished the chief surprise of the afternoon by her easy victory in the second over Melzar and other good youngsters. Melzar was smartly cut about the right foreleg, and this partly accounted for her poor showing.

Dainty Belle made amends to P. Dunne for Melzar's defeat by winning the third in a romp.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the New Louisville Jockey Club held yesterday, Jockey Dearborn was restored to good standing. The rider had been suspended for a faulty ride on Beau Brummel during the spring term of racing.

Charles Hughes was among the visitors. He is on his way to Lexington to inspect several youngsters owned by his employer, Henry Ziegler.

Ed Alvey purchased the yearling filly by Lissac—Trousseau III., and half-sister to Paul Clifford, from Robert Tucker.

G. W. Poole will ship the horses now in his charge to Los Angeles at the close of this meeting. Miller Sanderson will send a consignment to New Orleans next week.

W. H. Williams will take Carthage, Hans and several others for a winter campaign at the Crescent City.

W. L. Kirby, in addition to having charge of the field books at both New Orleans tracks, will race a string of horses owned by J. B. Respass. Kirby is eager to secure several long-distance racers.

It is more than likely that William Shelby will officiate as starter for the first week of the City Park meeting, pending the arrival of Mars Cassidy, who will wield the flag at Benning.

L. A. Cella was a visitor here yesterday, and discussed prospective racing conditions in the south this winter.

THIRTY LEADING JOCKEYS.

W. Miller and C. H. Shilling swelled their totals of winning mounts last week by riding eleven winners each, while J. Lee's score for the six days was seven. The standing of the thirty leading jockeys from January 1, to and including the racing of October 28, is as follows:

LEXINGTON RACING GOSSIP.

Lexington, Ky., October 28.—T. C. McDowell arrived here yesterday morning from New York and his stable came in last night. Mr. McDowell will remain here with the horses for about a month when he will ship to New Orleans, where he will race about twenty-five horses this winter.

Milton Young sent today to the Jockey Club the breeding and markings of 175 foals of 1907 for registration.

J. H. Shouldice came over from St. Louis last night, and today shipped his six-year-old bay gelding, Knowledge, to Chicago, where the horse will join Royal River and two others en route from Windsor to Oakland. Knowledge has been running all summer at Walnut Hill Stud and is much improved.

Edward Corrigan returned last night from a trip to Chicago, Kansas City and Louisville. He says "June" Collins has been sick for several days and that Tommy McGee has been in charge of the forty-one head of horses at Churchill Downs.

JOCKEY DUGAN'S LOSING STREAK.

New York, October 28.—E. Dugan is experiencing a streak of hard luck rarely encountered by a jockey of his class. "Twenty-seven mounts without a winner," said Tom Healey in the paddock at Jamaica Friday before the last race. "He goes away from the post tying himself on," concluded the trainer when asked what chance Teacress had in the race. Saturday Dugan rode five losers. Yesterday he rode three more but varied with two winners.

CELLA AND HENRY M'DANIEL PART.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—Louis A. Cella spent Sunday here. Mr. Cella said they had closed their racing campaign in the east and that he would not renew his contract with trainer Henry McDaniel, which terminates in a few weeks, for another year. A number of the horses which were raced on the metropolitan tracks are already at Latonia, and will be sent to New Orleans in charge of "Ted" Cella to race this winter. Mr. Cella would not assign any reason for quitting New York at this time, but said his horses did not fare very well there.

YELLOWBACK A PROMISING JUMPER.

Takes Three-year-old Steeplechase at Pimlico

—Botanist Wins Handicap.

Baltimore Md., October 28.—Racing at Pimlico today was carried on under rather unfavorable conditions. A cold wind swept the track and occasional showers drove the spectators to cover. Muddy going upset the calculations of the speculators and caused many scratches. The feature of the day, the Merchants' Handicap, was reduced by scratches to three starters. Of these, Botanist looked far and away the best. He went to the post a 1 to 2 favorite and simply cantered home.

W. Shields furnished the surprise of the day when his Yellowback got home first in the steeplechase for three-year-olds, beating out the favorite, Touchwood, which William Garth had proclaimed a chub. Yellowback showed himself a rattling good fencer and he stuck to Touchwood all the way through the field like a leech and outgamed the Garth horse in the run on the flat. King's Plate, which R. W. Walden purchased from the Whitney stable, won the first event of the day handily. It was a case of class and the stable connections profited handsomely.

The stewards were called upon to act in the last race, when they disqualified High Jumper and placed Puritan Girl first. At the sixteenth post Smith, on Puritan Girl, attempted to come through on the rail, but was shut off and interfered with. High Jumper, which swerved over in front of the filly, causing Smith to pull up. The stewards acted promptly and High Jumper was disqualified. The track will be heavy and sticky tomorrow.

PADDOCK SALE AT LATONIA.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—At a sale of horses by auction held in the Latonia paddock Saturday, a number were disposed of, including ten yearlings, four by Maceo, from J. B. Respass' Woodlawn Farm. The other six were consigned by Burr Ferguson, of Galatini, Tenn. Prices ruled low, the colt by Maceo—Janet Fonso, bringing top price of the youngsters.

The horses sold, prices realized and their purchasers are as follows:

GALLOPING WELL AT OAKLAND.

Oakland, Cal., October 28.—If the program which trainer Rowell has mapped out for the Williams stable is adhered to, Firestone will not be seen in a race at Oakland this winter. Firestone's ankles have been blistered for soreness, and the Royal Flush III. colt will spend the winter at Brentwood Stock Farm and be saved for his east-end engagements, unless President Williams should decide to veto his trainer's plans during the course of the winter. Another horse in the stable which will not race at the meeting is Corn Blossom. The Abercorn horse has been turned out for the winter. W. W. Finn will only race five horses here this winter. Reno Rebel has gone wrong in one of his knees and both ankles, and has been fired. Dr. Soule, which Finn bought from Barney Schreiber at the Batts meeting, is doing finely in his work, and his owner thinks he will be his best horse this winter.

R. H. Harris has sent his Jean Beraud bay filly, Lotta Gladstone, to E. J. Ramsey's farm, where she will be bred, later in the winter, to Salvador.

The work-outs on the track have been on the order of show gallops for the last few days, but some of those today are worthy of note. Dr. Rowell made a race of a work-out when he sent Escamado, Mistress of Rolls and Sir Russell away together this morning for six furlongs. Escamado finished in front in 1:16 1/2, with the other two close up. Rams was sent a mile in 1:47, and Janeta, which is W. A. Cotton's candidate for the Opening Handicap, went the distance in 1:48. Cigarlighter was timed a half in 53.

W. C. Glasson, who looked here two years ago, is seriously thinking of again joining the ranks of the layers.

J. S. HAWKINS BUYS OVELANDO.

Lexington, Ky., October 28.—Martin Doyle has sold Ovelando, the fine three-year-old bay colt by Orlando—Sister, by King Albion, to J. S. Hawkins for $3,500. This sale makes the sixth of the produce of Doyle's famous broodmare, now barren at the age of twenty-seven years, to be sold for an amount aggregating $21,050. The others were: Sister Mary, $7,000; Debar, $8,000; King Charlie, $1,200; Gorey, $800; and Loretta Burke, $500. Sister Mary was sold by Mr. Doyle after she had won $14,000 for him, while Debar was sold before he ever raced. King Charlie, Gorey and Loretta Burke were all sold when yearlings. The last foal of Sister Mary, a promising yearling now at the farm near Paris, Ky., and is by Orlando. Oraveto is a probable entry to the Derby at Louisville in 1909.

MRS. DURNELL DIVORCES "BOOTS."

New York, October 28.—Charles E. (Boots) Durnell has been divorced by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice L. Durnell. The decree was signed by Justice Aspinwall of the Supreme Court in New York Saturday after a trial in which Mrs. Durnell testified in her own behalf. Corroboratory testimony was given on the stand by jockey Arthur Redfern relating to charges made and occurring while Redfern was in the employ of Durnell. Durnell did not put in an appearance in his own defense.

JOCKEY GEE DIES AT BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., October 28.—Steeplechase jockey Gee, who was thrown at Pimlico Saturday while schooling a jumper, died at the Maryland General Hospital Sunday morning after an operation in which a portion of his skull was removed.

EASTERN RACING DANGER.

MUCH OF THE DAILY SCANDAL IS PURELY IMAGINARY.

Necessity for More Effort on the Part of Chairman August Belmont—How His Former Appeal Was Made.

New York, October 28.—In the winter of 1905 and 1906, the writer was cooling his heels in the Waldorf, in company with a half dozen other turf reporters awaiting the outcome of the agitation aroused by the efforts at Albany to harass the race tracks with legislation. Recent utterances of the Rev. Dr. Slicer made it necessary to see August Belmont at his home in Thirty-fourth Street, near Madison Avenue, to learn if he would say anything regarding the much-discussed question. Dr. Slicer had declared that betting at the race tracks would be shorn of much of its objectionable features, the Jockey Club stewards having promised him that they would do all they could to cut off pool-room information and in other ways cripple betting in the city. It was almost impossible to see any one of the Jockey Club stewards and obtain an interview. But by the merest good fortune August Belmont was seen entering his home by one of the newspaper men detailed to watch his comings and goings, and a committee at once made a rush from the Waldorf, some two blocks away, to the home of the chairman of the Jockey Club, and were fortunate enough to find him comparatively free from the incessant demands upon his time which a business man must endure.

One of the reporters, however, Mr. Belmont declined to talk to, and asking each of the others which paper he represented, the great turfman checked off upon the fingers of both hands the various papers and eliminated the representative of the objectionable journal who (like a gentleman) withdrew, when he found that Mr. Belmont would not consent to say anything with him as an auditor. Later on, that reporter obtained from one of his friends present, some idea of what Mr. Belmont said, and, of course he used it, but it appeared in a distorted form because of the hostility between the owner of the paper and the financier. The reporter was not to blame for that.

Then followed, with Mr. Belmont as the speaker, one of the most interesting talks on the then critical situation that the newspaper men had ever heard. Later on, that reporter obtained from one of the turf men ravenous to seek any opportunity to get a hole the person thought to be responsible for the compromise proposed to avert the pending legislation which would have crippled the turf. The discretion of the reporters was asked as a matter of self interest, if for no other reason, he said, because each man there present lived by reporting turf matter. "This constant agitation is harmful to the institution," Mr. Belmont said, "and it is only a question of a short time until there will be no races to report unless you one and all try to eliminate the features which challenge attention from the turf's enemies. Distorted and exaggerated betting reports are harmful. Stories about this or that race being pulled are bad. Don't you suppose that we are on the watch all the time for fraud? It is a dreadful thing to suffer under false charges when one is innocent, and we are bound to protect the reputation of every man connected with the turf if only to show that it is not the nest of fraud that is charged." This, and much other matter of interest, Mr. Belmont talked of, and the thinking men who composed that group of reporters felt the sense of justice which animated Mr. Belmont in his almost supplicatory remarks that the turf should not be pilloried.

Just now the racing situation seems to call for another interview with the chairman of the Jockey Club. Charges of foul work on the turf are of almost daily occurrence. Mr. Belmont's time is too valuable, and his enormous enterprises are too vital to permit him to personally attend the races more than once or twice a week. The same applies to Mr. Keene. Nearly all the other stewards of the Jockey Club, however, are frequent visitors. The Hitchcock rarely misses a day. Mr. Knapp comes down often. The stewards' stand each day at Belmont Park has been occupied by two men well-versed in racing matters, vigilant when foul riding is going on, and good judges of form, for both S. S. Howland and Harry J. Morris, the two stewards at the meeting just closed, know as much as the average steward at least. Both have been, and Mr. Morris still is, an owner of horses. Usually the third man in the stewards' stand has either been F. R. Hitchcock, H. R. Dwyer or Thomas Hitchcock, Jr. Elsewhere, H. K. Knapp, P. J. Dwyer and Andrew Miller have been stewards right along. All these men are horsemen, and all know the ins and outs of horse racing. They know, better than the average race track visitor, the ills of horse-flesh because they have been all through that. They know that a horse or a mare might one hour before a race be all right as to health, but on the verge of a contest they know there might come a change in the aspect of the animal which means defeat. A sudden increase in temperature would mean something wrong. This would not be so bad if it was seen in time, but, unluckily for some, that change has not always been promptly detected, and the horse runs and is badly beaten. Next day there develops an illness until then not suspected. Days of anxiety for the trainer and owner follow. Sometimes the horse dies, more often he recovers. But the bad race he ran goes on record and the "dope-keeper's" mark in red ink on their foot-note of the charts: "This is not the horse's race. Watch the betting next time." They never learn of the illness of the horse. All they know is that several weeks later, perhaps, the racer comes out fully recovered, runs his race, and wins. Then they howl for somebody to be ruled off.

This is the sort of criticism that Mr. Belmont and his associates deprecate. They, being horse owners themselves, know the faults of horse-flesh, which are more sudden and less easy to predict than those which attack human beings. The poor horse cannot talk, hence, when he is ill or on the verge of it, the only real indication is the temperature. The moment his oats remain in the feedbox not licked up clean, is an anxious one for the horse trainer. The suddenness of Roseben's illness, which so much alarmed the whole racing world recently, was great. One Saturday night, "Dave" Johnson told Daily Racing Form's representative he was anxious to race Colin at weight for age at Belmont Park at six or seven furlongs. On the following Monday he was plunged in gloom when Frank Weir telephoned to him that his great money-earner was in a very bad way, as the result of having struck a stone in his race in the Flight Stakes at Sheepshead Bay, and blood poisoning was feared. Johnson did not appear at the track for several weeks after Roseben was so afflicted. He is now on the high tide of prosperity again and the large betting transactions attributed to him on Friday are true.

Reverting to the turf situation, it is day by day becoming more serious. The daily papers charge riding to this and to that jockey. The Gold Lady instance is made much of. A. L. Aste informally told the stewards that his mare was badly ridden. In the west the stewards or judges would hardly wait for an owner to complain if the bad race was run there. The fact that Knapp was in trouble in June last in Montreal comes against him now. Still, he is, when on a real good horse, one of the best jockeys, especially over a distance of ground. His work on Nealon in the two long-distance races at Belmont Park was worth the price of admission. Nealon is so good tempered that he was easily waited with until Knapp thought it time to go on for the money. His work on Charles Edward, when that colt was at his best, could not be improved upon. Other races involving good hands and head are to the credit of Knapp on the metropolitan circuit. All this would seem to make it only fair to him to give heed to his claim that when Gold Lady was beaten, it was not his fault, though the great majority blamed him for it. J. J. Burke.

EASTERN RACING DANGER.

KENTUCKY YEARLINGS ARE BUSY.

Ideal Weather for Work with the Youngsters
 About Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., October 26.—These last ten or twelve October days have been ideal for the breaking and handling of yearlings and older thoroughbred horses now quartered at the local track to the number of about 150. The yearlings have all been broken, though the majority of them have not as yet had their trials. At the end of the next fortnight, however, it will be possible to determine what each and every one of them can do as to speed for an eighth or a quarter. The general health of the youngsters is good, though quite a number of them have lately been affected with a disease of the month. This has no lasting or deteriorating effect, merely delaying progress in training. These yearlings are not, as might be supposed by many who have not seen them, all culls. More than half of them are owned by men who either bought them out of the June sales at Sheepshead Bay, or bred and reserved them for racing.

Dan T. Morris has in training forty-eight head—forty-three yearling and five older horses—the largest string at the track. Of these, sixteen of the yearlings and three two-year-olds, are the property of R. L. Thomas and will be shipped to Los Angeles about December 1 to race at the new track at Arcadia. It was the intention of Mr. Thomas to race at Oakland the coming winter, but when Shilling was disciplined at Latonia by Judge Hopper, Mr. Thomas changed his plans, cancelled his order for cars which were to have been ready November 4, and decided to race at the track in southern California, where his jockey will not have to ride under the eye of Judge Hopper.

The Thomas yearlings are in appearance better than an average collection of young racers and if they do not earn their share in the early spring in California, trainer Morris and the local railbirds will be sorely disappointed. On leaving here they will go into the careful hands of John Ireland, who selected them out of the sales ring and who comes up from Latonia every Sunday to see them. The list, together with the prices paid by Mr. Thomas, is as follows:

Chestnut colt, by Star Shoot—Chapter.....$2,200
 Chestnut filly, by Star Shoot—Little Mary.....1,200
 Black filly, by Sir Dixon—Maribel.....1,200
 Chestnut colt, by Sir Dixon—Rose Verner.....250
 Bay filly, by Sir Dixon—Purity.....1,100
 Bay filly, by Sir Dixon—Queen Regent.....1,000
 Bay filly, by Sir Dixon—Donna Rica.....700
 Bay colt, by Sir Dixon—Eloquence.....1,200
 Bay filly, by Mazagan—Aggie Marden.....700
 Chestnut filly, by Mazagan—Argon.....500
 Bay filly, by Sempronius—Lady Balcowan.....750
 Bay colt, by Fatherless—Ethie.....800
 Chestnut colt, by Jack Point—Fronc.....1,000
 Brown colt, by Caldron—Arabella.....250
 Bay colt, by Caldron—Mamie Land.....200

The other is a bay filly by Resolute II, which Mr. Thomas bought from the late James E. Pepper when it was a weanling. It is believed by trainer Morris that the filly by Sempronius—Lady Balcowan is the best yearling at the track. She is certainly one of the largest and there is none in any of the barns that has anything on her in looks. She worked a quarter Wednesday morning in 23½ seconds and did it without the slightest effort. She is the second foal of her dam, a half-sister to Landseer. The colt out of Chapter, while the highest priced one of his sex in the barn, is not the best looking, nor the best liked generally. The pick of the colts seems to be the dark bay fellow by Sir Dixon, out of Eloquence, therefore a half-brother to Alcedo, which, as a four-year-old, beat Ethelbert, Sidney Lucas, Blues and others in the Suburban. The filly out of Purity is a half-sister to J. C. Core. The filly out of Queen Regent is a half-sister to Searcher. The one out of Maribel is a half-sister to Black Mary. The colt out of Ethie is a half-brother to Ethie, Don Quixote and Rosinante. The two-year-olds Mr. Morris is handling for Mr. Thomas are Costly (one worth remembering), Billy Rowless and Courier Girl.

Mr. Morris owns twelve yearlings outright and has an interest with Colonel Milton Young in another dozen. Those owned by Mr. Morris individually are:

Bay filly, by Requitul—Iona.
 Brown colt, by Requitul—Proress.
 Black colt, by Tithonus—Geneva B.
 Brown colt, by Kinney Mack—Merry Order.
 Chestnut filly, by Star Shoot—Hindoo Rose.
 Bay colt, by Ingoldsby—Hifalutin.
 Bay filly, by Requitul—Scotty.
 Chestnut colt, by Star Shoot—Cold Wave.
 Bay filly, by Requitul—Felline.
 Bay filly, by Requitul—Makada.
 Bay colt, by Bridgewater—Logie.
 Brown filly, by Requitul—Trustful.

In the lot owned by Colonel Young and Mr. Morris are:

Chestnut colt, by Lackford—The Chough.
 Brown colt, by Sempronius—Tody Smith.
 Bay colt, by Cameron—Bandy.
 Bay colt, by Sempronius—Emiel.
 Bay colt, by Cameron—Quetta.
 Bay colt, by Cameron—Gold Wings.
 Bay colt, by Alloway—Retained II.
 Bay colt, by Monsieur de L'Orme—Fidel Youlin.
 and four others, by Requitul, Monsieur de L'Orme, Woolsthorpe and Sempronius.

He is also training Debar for Thornton Moore and Artful Dodger for J. S. Ward. These last named two are to be taken from here to New Orleans next month by Mr. Ward. Debar looks well after his rest. Mr. Morris expects to take his own horses to Hot Springs after the holidays, it being generally understood hereabouts that there is a chance for racing at Oaklawn next season.

Among the eight boys who are exercising the Morris horses, are two who give great promise of becoming good riders. One is the younger brother of jockey Lloyd, the good boy under contract to Ames Turner, who was injured at Fort Erie last summer. The other is a local lad named Lawrence Frasier. He is fourteen years old, weighs sixty-eight pounds and has as good a seat and hands as any beginner ever possessed. He is a good-looking little chap and is bright and well behaved. Mr. Morris has a long-time contract on him and will give him every opportunity to advance.

John Rodzap is training twenty-four yearlings for several owners. He has had them up less than thirty days and, of course, has not tried them out.

W. J. Young had, in addition to his own youngsters, thirteen belonging to Colonel W. E. Applegate, but he shipped them to Latonia a day or two ago and they are to go from there to California.

William Steele is training twelve of the Kemmore Farm youngsters for Julius Bauer. Oats Grater, Colby Karr, J. D. Clayton and Walter Grater also have stables at the track.

There is a scarcity of exercise boys here and at Latonia. Edward Corrigan scoured the city for two days in search of two good boys to send out to trainer Dave Peel, who is breaking the Corrigan yearlings at Freeland Farm, but he was unable to get them. He finally succeeded in locating two at Harwoodburg. Pat Dunne is training sixteen horses at Latonia with three boys and Tom Hayes has only four to exercise about twenty head. Everywhere at the local track is short-handed. The trouble is that as soon as a good exercise boy turns up in this vicinity, somebody picks him up and sends him east. This is usually good fortune for the boy, but it is tough on the trainer who first located him and delayed taking out papers.

HOPEFUL STOVER'S AMBITIOUS PLANS

Harry Stover and W. W. Finn, with others whose names have not been divulged, are still negotiating with the officials of the Minnesota State Fair Association for the use of Exposition Park race track, situated between St. Paul and Minneapolis, for the purpose of giving a thirty-day race meeting there next summer. The officials of the Fair Association and other prominent Minnesota citizens profess to believe that legislation which will make it possible to hold such a meeting as Stover plans, will be secured at the coming session of the Minnesota legislature at St. Paul this winter. If such a measure is enacted into law, Stover and his associates will, in all probability, be the controlling spirits of a thirty-day meeting to be held there at the close of the racing season. According to his present announced plans, Stover will be head of quite a pretentious race circuit next year, as he intends to give a twelve or eighteen day meeting at Kenilworth Park, Petaluma, Cal., following the close of the Oakland season. The meeting at Butte will embrace sixty racing days next year. There was a decided demand for an extension of twenty days last summer, and Stover has since regretted that it was not made. Aside from the determination to race sixty days next year, the owners of the Butte track have not definitely settled upon any plans as to the value of the stakes or overnight purses, but it is reasonably certain that there will be one stake race each week as last year, and an increase in the added money for the handicaps. The establishment of the $5,000 Four States Futurity, to be run for the first time in 1909, is an indication that the management will offer greater inducements to horsemen to race at Butte than has been done since Marcus Daly owned the Butte plant and made for it the reputation of being the best racing town of its size in the country.

BARNEY SCHREIBER'S WISDOM.

Cincinnati, O., October 28.—When here recently Barney Schreiber said that his share of Nealon's earnings for the year totaled about $10,000. The half-interest in the horse that he sold to Durnell added $7,500. Schreiber gave Dugan $1,000 for winning the Suburban. Commenting on the stallions, Adam and Rock Sand, Schreiber said: "Adam should make a mighty fine sire, and if I could spare the money I would try and buy him. Rock Sand was a good race horse and his get are a fine-looking brand, in fact too fine. They remind me of the chaps just emerging from college, about to try their fortunes. Stacked alongside of those who have had many knocks and attained their knowledge from experience, the first glance will lead to the belief that the collegian is the superior, but it isn't always so. True, the college chap has the polish and the learning, but he lacks the ability to do things, and the edge of action. The same way with colts. I don't like to see them too smooth or too fine. I want a youngster with a bit of rough to him. He will fine down with racing."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

There is a letter at this office for Mr. Percy Taylor.

Trainer Phillips says Missouri Lad was so badly out in several places during the running of the fifth race at Jamaica Friday, that he will hardly go to the post again in the east.

J. Smith, former trainer for J. L. Holland, has taken the position recently resigned by Dan T. Winslow as trainer for C. Kraus. Winslow has not made any new arrangements as yet.

Matt Byrnes will train a part of the racing stable of Paul J. Rainey next year and the horses he will handle have already been turned over to him. They are Ginette, Computer, Sir Wilfred and the yearling half-brother to De Mund.

Jack Atkin has developed a sour and mean disposition and if trainer Brandt does not overcome a tendency on the part of the handsome son of Sain to shrink back as the barrier is sprung, the big horse will not win many more races this year.

John A. Drake is at a loss to know what to do with his jockey, Garner. The boy is a native of Mr. Drake's home town in Iowa, and was brought out by him and he naturally thinks a lot of the boy, but can do nothing with him. "I am willing to let him go with a first-class stable," says Mr. Drake, "but I will not let him have his contract or go with a stable that is not a good one."

King's Plate was best in the going, went to the front when his rider was ready and came away easily in the stretch. Omnipotent ran a good race and outgamed Gun Cotton at the finish. The latter ran well and finished resolutely. Glaucus did not like the going and ran disappointingly. Saltram made up much ground.

Nancy, much the best at the weights and in the going, ran into the lead at the start and won all the way well in hand. Lady Karma was always in closest pursuit and was best of the others in the going. Lally made a game effort while rounding the far turn, but tired in the final furlong. Jupiter could never get up.  Winner—B. g. by Hastings—Bella-Donna (trained by F. M. Taylor).
 Went to post at 2:35. At post 1 minute. Start good. Don driving; second and third the same. Don Enrique indulged Sally Preston with the lead to the half, then went to the front and seemed to be winning easily, but was suddenly menaced on both sides and appeared beaten, but outstayed all challengers finally. Marster, seemingly outpaced in the early running, caught up rapidly on the last turn, seemed likely to win midway of the stretch and was a game second. Troublemaker, badly ridden, dropped to the rear and closed an immense gap in the last half. Sally Preston showed brilliant early speed, but failed to stay. The winner was entered for $3,000; no bid.

 Winner—Ch. m. by Handel—Elzara (trained by F. D. Wein).
 Went to post at 3:03. At post 2 minutes. Start poor. Won driving; second and third the same. Handzarra, almost back to her best form, won all the way in the decisive style. Explosion, always in nearest pursuit of the leader, finished gamely and just failed to get up. Sewell had no mishaps, ran within striking distance and finished fast, but could not quite get up. Purlane closed up well in the last three furlongs and is extra good. Ben Ban was always outpaced and quit in the closing drive, running a bad race.

 Went to post at 3:29. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won cantering; second and third driving. King Cobalt, favored by the going, decisively outbroke and spreadeagle his opposition and is a superlative mud runner. Arasee, outtrun in the early stages, closed up very gamely at the end, but seemed handicapped by the going. Bellwether tired after close pursuit of the pacemakers for five furlongs. Goldquest held on bravely well. Tartar Maid seemed unable to stride freely in the going. Live Wire got away badly and was always outpaced.

 Went to post at 3:52. At post 1 minute. Start straggling. Won driving; second and third the same. General Haley, at home in the going, ran into the lead at the start, won all the way and was never seriously menaced. D'Arkie, also well served by the footing, ran prominently from the start and outstayed Andrew Mack in a long closing drive. The latter, seemingly outpaced for six furlongs, finished with a rush and is becoming good. Workman ran in strenuous and nearest pursuit of the winner for six furlongs and then tired. Frank Lubbock was evidently handicapped by the track. The winner was entered for $700; no bid.

 Went to post at 4:20. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Infanta, from a lucky start, drew out quickly and made the running, but finished tiring and just lasted long enough. Lady Corinne relinquished her lead early, but ran in nearest pursuit of the winner and was wearing her down at the end. Lotus Brandt dropped back and was outpaced, but closed a gap in the last half. Immitator, off well, kept well up in the early stages, but failed to stay. Queen of the Hills ran prominently to the stretch and tired. Dixie Gold was nearly left. Proclivity kept a good position and closed up at the end slowly.

 Went to post at 2:30. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second driving; third the same. Ethel Carr, running in much improved form and favored by the heavy going, wore the leaders down on the stretch turn and came away with ease in the last furlong. Melzar tired fast after going a half and bore out badly in the stretch run. Linda Lake came from a long way back in the last quarter, finished with a rush and would have been second in another stride. Kathrine Murphy ran fairly well and but for being in the heaviest going in the last furlong would have been much closer up. Ansonia ran a good race from a poor send-off. Lexington Lady tired after being prominent for a half.
 Scratched—(71408) Miss Sain, 115; 71582 White Broom, 100; 71583 Moscow Belle, 100; 71545 Balla, 100; 71553 Countess of Melbourne, 100; 70187 Pedigree, 95; 71314 Extry, 95.
